Vinyl Take-Back Scheme

Polyflor & Recofloor

It is important that we are responsible in the chain of custody of our products and we are proactively seeking to recover and recycle waste vinyl flooring for a closed-loop life cycle.

Polyflor is one of two founding and funding members of Recofloor, the unique industry vinyl flooring take-back scheme, which recycles post consumer smooth and safety off-cuts back into new flooring and also recycles uplifted vinyl waste into other useful items such as traffic cone and road barrier bases.

As the involvement of distributors and contractors continues to increase, making recycling more accessible and efficient, more collection points and drop-off sites will be available and even less waste will go to landfill. Reducing unnecessary journeys is important to the scheme as Recofloor's objectives would be less meaningful if the carbon footprint was heavily impacted on.

How it works...

Collection containers and storage

Material will be collected in bulk bags clearly printed with the Recofloor logo and the type of material to be placed in the bag. It is essential that uplifted flooring, safety flooring off-cuts and smooth vinyl off-cuts are collected in separate bulk bags. Clear plastic sacks can be provided on request. These are useful for transporting material to drop-off sites and for filling up with off-cuts while laying flooring. They can be placed in the bulk bags ready for collection. Please ensure that all bulk bags are placed on pallets for collection.

CONTRACTORS - why take part?

Recofloor comes at an important time given the Government's recent legislation of site waste management. Recofloor is specified as an outlet for vinyl waste in tenders - increasingly customers are keen to see their flooring recycled at the end of its life. For those who take part in the scheme, certificates of commitment are awarded to impress and gain new contracts with their green credentials. Furthermore, for those who recycle the most, gold, silver and bronze awards are also distributed accordingly.

DISTRIBUTORS

- could you be a drop-off site ?

This is a great way to add value to the service provided and help the industry be more sustainable. Distributors issue flooring contractors with bags in which to collect installation off-cuts and uplifted flooring. Drop-off sites need to provide a space in their yard for a collection bin so contractors can return the filled bags when collecting new supplies.

If you would like to be a drop-off site, please call the Recofloor team on 0161 355 7618.
